To Whom It May Concern:

RMH Telecom Consultants has provided their Telecom Expense Reduction services to my firm and other investment properties in which we are affiliated over the past ten years. Each time, they conducted a thorough review of our telecom expenses and infrastructure and provided an easy to read executive summary of their findings and recommendations. In each case, there were savings realized in the range of 25% to 40%.

Pursuant to this program, their fees were paid out of the savings they generated so we really incurred no expense. Additionally, we took no risk as we were under no obligation to accept their recommendations.

Most recently, they have generated savings in excess of $21,000.00 for our law firm and have provided other traditional telecom consulting services as well. It is a pleasure working with RMH Telecom Consultants and I highly recommend their services to any organization interested in reducing their operating expenses.

Sincerely,

Roy C. Williams
